adidas 2022

The game plan for a better tomorrow

adidas is known as a long-standing innovator in the sportswear industry. Now, they've taken the next step in their innovation to not only offer the best in fashion trends, but to provide options that are better for the planet too.

Sustainability is more and more important to brand identity and distinction, and consumers are quickly taking note of the adidas game plan to end plastic waste. Consumers have started changing the way they think, and most importantly, the way they purchase. Where they put their dollar counts, and they know it, so they are focusing on what's most important to them when they shop.

The 2022 adidas collection features Recycled Polyester and BCI Cotton (Better Cotton Initiative). These fabrics can be found in styles that are perfect on the field or the sidelines, in the boardroom or the break room as well as on the weekends. The adidas line is versatile enough for everyday life, while helping preserve our resources for a better tomorrow.
